

120.) Definition von "Counterpart" / Definition of Counterpart - Parminder Biant 09.05.2020

Sabbat Morgen

Adam should learn through giving names to the animals, that all animals had counterparts. He should learn that he had no counterpart for himself. He should feel alone.

Why did God cause this pain to Adam?

Because he should feel like God felt, he should know God. God felt alone because he had no counterpart for himself. It was a parable for Adam to understand God.

Then God created a counterpart for Adam and gave it to him for free.

A counterpart has to fit. Has to have the similar size, appearance, age etc. He give him the part that corresponds and perfectly matches.

God made humans to be his counterpart, but not from the beginning. They first had to grow.

Lucifer was an angel, but he was not the counterpart of God, because he was not equal to him.

The hierarchy was:

God

Lucifer

Angels

Adam

Adam needs to grow in order to become God's counterpart. He should grow up and stand on Lucifer's shoulders to be on the level of God. Then he would be the counterpart of God.

Adam+Eve = Humanity

How does the humanity get from the below level to the high level of God?

Lucifer should have helped and educated them to grow up to get to the level of God.

Adam+Eve are already each other's counterpart. Their own lives together teach them about the potentiality of their life with God: Eve with God and Adam with God.

In order for me to teach you something I have to know the thing for myself.

What is Lucifer's job? To teach Adam and Eve about God and bring them up higher.

What can he not do? He can't teach them something he doesn't know. He is not a counterpart of God, so he can't teach them what it means to be a counterpart.

This is what God had to teach them. He taught this to them every day, when they walked together arm in arm through the garden.

Adam and Eve had been created to be a living example of what a counterpart actually looks like.

When Adam and Eve were created they were already a counterpart of God, but not perfectly because they were below the Angels. They needed to grow to the level of God. How? By learning from Lucifer and from each other. The relationship was perfect from the beginning, but they needed to grow and learn what it means to be the counterpart from each other.

When God created the human he followed his own rules: He created everything in his own image.

God's problem was that he had no counterpart. For that reason he had to create Adam without a counterpart. He wanted to show Adam his own pain, what it means to have no counterpart, to be not complete. Then he created Eve to show what it means to have a counterpart and to be complete.

God created human beings because he needed a counterpart. He is not complete without humans.

Adam's sin is so grievous because he had something that God didn't have.

Everything that God ever wanted he gave to Adam at the very beginning.

Adam and Eve trough that away without any excuse.

It was not about eating the fruit, but about the experience to have a counterpart. They trough that away and said, I don't need a counterpart I want to function on my own.

The knowledge of good and evil is not just about disobedience, but it's about the desire not to have a counterpart.

God waited for millennia to get his counterpart. He creates human beings and puts Lucifer in that high position to educate and elevate them, but it all gets wrong. For that reason, Jesus had to come to earth. It was God's plan B to insure that the counterpart actually works.

Why did Adam sin together with Eve?

Adam already lost Eve before she ever went to the tree. They were meant to work together as a team but they were both separating in their mind even before she went to the tree.

Being a counterpart is to worship each other. Adam should have worshipped Eve and vice versa.

They thought they could separate from each other which means they were already no counterparts anymore.

When Eve had eaten the fruit, Adam knew that they will be fully separated now. He continued in his own thing: First he had let her go by herself and then he tried to repair the damage by himself.

He said: If you die, I die with you. But he wanted to blackmail God: If you kill her, you have to kill me as well. And we know: If you kill us, you have no counterpart anymore.

It was premeditated sin. No one was deceived, they completely knew what they did and just did it willingly.

For us it is habit to sin, for them not.

We get deceived, they didn't.
